Misty Double Glazing?

Hi My name is Dave Millidge, let me introduce my company where I repair windows and replace misted up Double glazed units.

The area that I cover is Coventry and Warwickshire. You may have seen me around in your street or even have family and friends who I have worked for in the past ten years, with over 6,000 satisfied customers during that period. I started Misty to Clear to give customers the best value repairs in the current climate.

The Misty to Clear website allows total transparency of the customer experience. You can log into the website and view work that I have carried out. You can also leave feedback on social media. Therefore I give a 5 year guarantee on all new double glazed units fitted by Misty to Clear.

This is a genuine guarantee which does not come as an extra to my price.

I started Misty to Clear mindful that the cost of repairs is probably key to most people's budget when using tradesmen to do work on their behalf in their homes.

I offer a lower cost service to both old and new customers as I operate directly for the customer with no additional hidden charges or insurance costs to you the customer.

So my Company name is Misty to Clear where I can offer steamed up window glass replacement and fix broken handles, hinges, seals, window locks and door locks.

I also change glass in Velux windows too.

Satisfaction guaranteed to be a high standard that carries a 5 year manufacturer backed guarantee.

Clearly a great service!

A Note

From the Editor

Welcome to our April/May edition.

April is the month of warm spring sunshine, Easter holidays where families and friends gather, chocolate eggs, hot cross buns, long walks, spring flowers and St George's Day.

Egg hunts have been a beloved tradition in England since the reign of Queen Victoria and generations of children have delighted in the thrill of running around a garden or park in the hope that they might discover a treasured prize. Many stately homes are holding spring events this year which promise to be wonderful days out.

Spring gifts don't just have to be for children, adults will enjoy receiving some artisanal chocolates or treats, a bunch of flowers or spring plant or even the invitation for a walk to a local coffee shop for a friendly catch up.

May is a wonderfully comforting warm and sunny month here in England, and with the mild, light evenings many of us are dusting off our barbecues, strolling to the pub or local restaurant for a delicious meal or picnicking in the park and watching the birds nesting in trees that are fast filling with leaf. Nature is in full force now; spring flowers are in bloom and many of us are enjoying the feeling of a new start that fills us with optimism for the months ahead.

May is a very English month. There is nothing quite so English as listening to the thwack of leather on willow and polite clapping as local teams play a game of cricket before retiring to the clubhouse for tea or watching skilled crown green bowlers pit their skills against an opposing team in gentle but determined competition. All around mowers hum as lawns are trimmed, and radios play timeless Motown classics reminding us how lovely the month of May is.

Here are some dates for your calendar:
3rd April - Good Friday (Bank Holiday);
5th April - Easter Sunday; 6th April -
Easter Monday (Bank Holiday); 23rd
April - St. George's Day; 4th May - Early
May Bank Holiday; 25th May - Spring
Bank Holiday.

As always, we ask you to please remember to mention Stonesthrow Directories when calling our Advertisers.

However you chose to spend the next couple of months - please remember to keep your heart and your business local.

Yours, Stonesthrow Publications.

Dementia Care focus

With good advice, careful consideration and a person-centred approach choosing the right care for someone with dementia can help them live well.

With almost a million people living with dementia in the UK, and that set to increase by around forty per cent by 2030 the condition is often referred to as the UK's biggest health and social care crisis. But with good care people suffering from dementia can live good lives.

DEMENTIA

Dementia is a syndrome, a group of related symptoms, and it is mainly associated with the decline of certain brain functions which include memory loss, but also includes thinking speed, mood, movement, understanding and others. Alzheimer's disease is one of the most common types of dementia along with vascular dementia but there are numerous others.

UNDERSTANDING THEIR NEEDS

Many people who suffer from dementia have complex needs, which range from the need to feel safe, to the need to take medication properly and regularly to the need to maintain their dignity and to maintain their selfhood. Any dementia care needs to focus on meeting these needs and any other needs that are specific to the individual.

RESEARCH CARE OPTIONS

When considering care options family members need to undertake extensive research into what help is available. This can begin with support to live at home through to living in a care or nursing home. If you have been helping someone live independently or semi independently but as symptoms have worsened a needs assessment will be required from social services. Your local GP is a good place to begin this process and seek advice, guidance and support.

EVALUATE FACILITIES AND SERVICES

Dementia sufferers have extensive needs but there is help out there. Care homes are assessed by the Care Quality Commission and the most recent report is a good place for families to access an initial assessment.

LOCATION AND FACILITIES

The location of a care facility can have an impact on the ability of someone with dementia to live well, and being close to friends and family can have a massive impact on their health. However, because dementia requires higher levels of specialist care whether there is an appropriate care or nursing home with the facilities to care for people is also an important factor.

CONSIDER COST AND FUNDING

The cost of caring for someone with dementia can be considerably higher than for those without it. There should be 24-hour cover, with specific trained staff who understand dementia and can create and implement a care plan to help your loved ones live well and be happy. This specialist care makes dementia care cost relatively high. There is financial assistance out there, but this is often means tested. Your local GP will be able to offer advice and put you in touch with care specialists to allow informed decision making.

Choosing the right care for your loved one involves many factors but if they are able, it should involve the person with dementia as much as possible so they can live their best life.

Spring energy dip

Spring – it’s the season that’s meant to reinvigorate, revive... the time of the year when we come out of our collective shells and feel, well... better!

So what is the disconnect of the spring energy gap? And how can we find a way past it?

THE PROBLEM

The clocks have changed, daylight returns, gardens come back to life; yet for many people, April brings a surprising dip in energy rather than a lift. Tiredness lingers, motivation drops, and bodies feel heavier than they should after winter. It’s a quiet contradiction that leaves many wondering why they feel flat just as the year seems to be waking up.

This disconnect has a name: the spring energy gap.

THE BACKGROUND

It happens because our bodies don’t switch seasons as quickly as the calendar does. After months of lower daylight, reduced movement and disrupted routines, many people emerge from winter running on depleted physical and mental reserves. Immune systems have worked harder, sleep patterns have drifted, and daily movement has often become more limited... all of which combine to leave energy stores low.

Vitamin D levels are one factor. Sunlight is our primary source of vitamin D, and by the end of winter, levels are often at their lowest. Low vitamin D has been linked to fatigue, low mood, muscle weakness and increased susceptibility to illness, and these are all common complaints in early spring.

Sleep is another hidden contributor. Brighter mornings and later evenings can quietly disrupt sleep cycles, particularly after the clocks change. People may go to bed at the same time but fall into lighter, less restorative sleep, creating a cumulative energy drain that builds across weeks.

Movement also plays a role. Winter habits tend to involve more sitting and less spontaneous activity. Even those who exercise regularly may still experience stiffness, slower circulation and reduced flexibility after months of lower overall movement.

There is also mental fatigue to consider. Winter brings a steady background load of stress - shorter days, financial pressures, seasonal illness and social slowdown. By April, this low-grade strain hasn’t yet lifted, even though the weather has improved.

THE SOLUTION

The solution isn’t a dramatic reset. In fact, extreme changes can deepen fatigue rather than resolve it. What works best are gentle, consistent adjustments. Morning daylight exposure – even 10 minutes outdoors – helps reset internal body clocks.

In addition, light daily movement improves circulation and joint comfort; while regular mealtimes support stable energy levels.

Hydration improves focus and reduces headaches while, finally, earlier bedtimes can repair sleep quality after the clock change.

Ultimately, the spring energy gap isn’t a failure of motivation – it’s a natural seasonal transition. Once bodies catch up with the calendar, energy usually returns quietly and steadily... often without people realising exactly when it happened.

Ultimately, April isn’t about pushing harder - it’s about allowing your body to rejoin the year at its own pace.

How to save your pet from loneliness

Is your pet lonely? Find out by exploring the subtle signs that a lot of us miss.

They're fed, walked, stroked and adored, so how could your pet possibly be lonely?!

In truth, loneliness in pets is one of the most common and misunderstood behavioural issues vets and trainers see, and it often hides in plain sight.

Part of that is because it doesn't present itself in the same way as it does for us humans – after all, loneliness doesn't look like your dog staring sadly out of the window all day!

Instead, it looks like 'naughty' behaviour. It looks like a suddenly chewed shoe, an accident on the carpet, a cat that's gone aloof, or a dog that won't settle even after a walk.

Animals are social creatures. They are wired for routine, stimulation and company, and after a long winter of darker evenings, cancelled walks and shorter days, many pets quietly slip into emotional hibernation.

Come spring, that bottled-up restlessness starts to show. So with that in mind, here are the signs most owners miss:

- following you from room to room
- whining
- pacing or excessive grooming
- sudden clinginess or, conversely, withdrawal
- destructive behaviour that comes out of nowhere
- oversleeping

- loss of interest in toys
- increased barking or vocalising

As discussed, this isn't naughtiness, it's communication.

The good news is, the fix doesn't need to be dramatic, and it certainly doesn't need to involve guilt.

Start with stimulation, not miles. Ten minutes of sniffing, training games, puzzle feeders or gentle agility work can tire a dog out more effectively than a long walk.

For cats, rotating toys weekly and introducing short, high-energy play bursts can completely change their mood.

Next, change the day, not just the evening. Many pets are alone for long stretches while we're at work. Local dog walkers, pet day-care centres and home-visit sitters can transform behaviour with just one or two mid-day interactions a week. It's often cheaper than repairing skirting boards!

Finally, add social variety. Dogs benefit hugely from regular contact with other dogs, even quiet ones. Cats may prefer human interaction, but they still thrive on predictable routines and gentle novelty such as a new perch, a different window view, a heated mat, or a feeder that makes them think.

Ultimately, loneliness in pets doesn't mean you've failed. It means your animal is asking for something, and usually it's not more treats! Instead, it's connection, stimulation, rhythm and reassurance.

April Gardening Jobs

April is a busy one out in the garden as gardeners sow, plant and prepare their plots in preparation for summer.

*Perhaps the busiest month in the garden, April is a delight to behold as the vegetable plot begins to take shape, the flower garden has fresh blooms and lawns are a beautiful baize inviting workers to stop a while and smell the early flowering roses like the tough but stunning Rosa rugosa.*

VEGETABLES

If you have been forcing some delicious rhubarb there should be plenty of sweet pink stems to harvest this month, and your late winter crops of leeks, spring greens, kale and broccoli should still be providing a lot for the dinner table. And, towards the end of the month early potatoes will be succulent and delicious eaten on their own with just a little butter.

This month you can begin sowing outdoors in earnest, including peas and broad beans, spring onions, beetroot and carrots. But make sure you don't risk sharing these precious seeds with the birds! Cover them with sticks, twigs or by making use of cuttings from blackberry bushes. Fine netting is probably the best thing to use to keep your plants safe, but you could try items like hanging foil and old CDs to scare birds away. Feeding the birds their favourite food might also help to reduce their interest in your tender plants.

Frosts are not unheard of in April so keep an eye on the forecast and make sure you have cloches and fleeces ready to protect tender shoots. Also, protect early potato shoots by regularly hoeing up soil.

FLOWERS

Because spring weather and temperatures can veer unpredictably from cold and wet, to an early heatwave as in April 2025, only hardy annuals should be sown directly into the soil outside. These include cornflowers and poppies, fragrant sweet peas and sunflowers. Half-hardy annuals such as cosmos and tobacco plants should not be risked outside and only planted inside, or under glass this month. They can be transplanted outside later.

LAWN

Lawns are growing fast and will need feeding this month. Choose a feed product with a high nitrogen content as this will encourage plenty of green growth – there are numerous dedicated spring and summer granular feeds will have the right nutrient balance for your spring lawn. Wait to feed until you have mowed the lawn a few times and after you have done your thorough spring moss raking.

OTHER WORK

As well as plants, weeds are also growing fast this month, so regular hoeing is required to keep on top of the problem in the vegetable and flower garden. Mulching can reduce weed growth and helps to keep moisture in the soil as the sun gets stronger and the temperatures rise.

If not already done, April is a good time to check, repair or replace any parts of your water retention system, check gutters and water butts, or consider investing in upgrading your system, to make the most of any April showers!

Blueberry Cinnamon Breakfast Swirls

INGREDIENTS:

For the dough

420g Strong white flour, plus extra for dusting
 4 tbsp caster sugar
 2 tsp Dried fast-action yeast
 100ml Milk
 40g Butter, plus extra for greasing
 Oil, for greasing

For the filling

150g Blueberries, halved
 Zest of an orange
 1 tsp ground cinnamon
 Nutmeg
 4 tbsp brown sugar

To finish

1 Beaten egg
 70g Icing sugar
 1–2 tbsp lemon juice or water
 Fresh whole blueberries, to decorate

METHOD

Dough: Pour the milk and 100ml water into a saucepan with the butter. Heat gently until the butter is melted. Leave to cool until it's lukewarm.

Place the flour, sugar, and yeast into a bowl (or the bowl of an electric mixer fitted with a dough hook). Make a well in the centre. Pour the milky mixture into the well. Either mix with your hands or in the mixer on the slow setting with the dough hook. Knead for about 5 minutes, or until a smooth dough has formed.

Oil a large bowl and place the dough inside. Cover with cling film and leave to rise in a warm place for about 2 hours. When the dough has doubled in size, place on a lightly floured surface and knead for a second time by hand for a few minutes. Butter a 23cm/9in round springform tin.

Roll the dough out to a rectangle. Scatter the orange zest, ground cinnamon, nutmeg, and brown sugar over the dough, then top with the blueberries. Strating from the long side, roll up the dough as though you were making a Swiss roll. Slice into 9 swirls using a sharp knife. Place the swirls gently into the buttered tin, eight around the edge and one in the middle, cut-side up.

Brush with oil, cover with clingfilm and place in a warm place to rise for about 30 minutes this time, or until doubled in size again.

Preheat the oven to 200C/180C Fan/Gas 6.

Brush the top of the buns with beaten egg and bake for 20–25 minutes, or until golden-brown and cooked through. Place on a wire rack to cool.

Mix the icing sugar and lemon juice in a bowl until the consistency is suitable for drizzling. Drizzle over the swirls. Scatter over the fresh blueberries and enjoy.

Affordable Luxury: Rethinking the Garden Room

Creating more space at home doesn't have to mean a costly extension. Across the West Midlands, garden rooms are becoming a smarter, more cost-effective way to add space, giving you something practical, flexible, and built to last.

What Does 'Affordable' Really Mean?

When it comes to garden rooms, 'affordable' is often misunderstood, and many focus on the lowest upfront price. While a poorly built garden room may save you money initially, without proper insulation, professional installation or durable construction, it can become costly to maintain and repair, or even unusable in winter. Affordability is about long-term value, investing in a space you can use year-round, for years to come.

An Easier Way to Create Space

Compared to traditional brick and mortar extensions, garden rooms are a hassle-free way to create extra space. Installation is faster, disruption is minimal, and the result is a room that can be used for work, hobbies or relaxation, just steps from home. From home offices and gyms to creative studios or entertainment spaces, garden cabins are being designed around how people actually live.

Affordable Luxury, Without Compromise

For those looking to keep the cost of their garden room down, Cabin Master's Studio Range offers the solution. With set sizes and specifications, these ready-to-use buildings remove the need for a full bespoke design, helping to keep your new studio budget-friendly.

What doesn't change is the quality. The studio range is built with the same high standards and materials as bespoke cabins, installed in as little as three days. With prices starting from £12,500, it's an affordable way to create a luxury space.

Designed Around You

Of course, bespoke garden rooms are an option for those wanting complete flexibility. From layout and glazing to internal paint colours and premium cladding options, a tailored design allows homeowners to create a space that fits their exact needs, whether for work, relaxation, or a bit of both.

Built for Everyday Living

Modern garden rooms aren't just an add-on anymore. With full insulation and professional installation, they're designed to be used every day, in every season, just like any other room in your home. Done properly, a garden room doesn't just give you more space, it gives you a better way to use it.

Visit Cabin Master's Studley show site to explore the range, chat with their friendly team of garden building experts, and see what's possible for your own home.
