A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome to the June/July Edition. Summer is fast approaching and it's a time when many of us will be taking our holidays, some to far flung parts of the globe some to one the many beautiful places in Great Britain. Schools will be breaking up for the summer soon and parents looking for innovative ways to entertain their children.

The beautiful British countryside is at its perfect peak, not least our natural wildflower meadows. This year National Meadows Day 2025 will be on Saturday, July 5th. This annual event which celebrates and promotes the importance of our meadows and their biodiversity in the UK. The charity, Plantlife manages 23 nature reserves across the UK and this month is the best month to visit one of these stunning natural places and support the vital work of helping save British meadows.

If you do intend to enjoy one of our beautiful meadows this Summer, always remember to follow the Country Code which includes the advice to respect and leave the countryside how you found it, take your litter home, do not light fires, and do not cause damage or disturbance.

If you would like to promote a business locally - we would love to help by bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience in connecting businesses with local communities, creating eye-catching adverts and making sure each door gets a copy of their directory full of local talent. Give us a call or email for a friendly chat. We are a small local business too, so we only thrive if your business thrives, so we do our best to make sure you are seen and recognised by local residents who receive, read, retain and reference Stonestrow Directories.

Happy Father's Day to all dads, granddads and great granddads out there. This year's Father's Day falls on the Sunday, 15th of June.

Please remember to mention Stonestrow Directories when calling our Advertisers, so we can build on the portfolio of ultra local trades and services, news, events and clubs in one handy guide delivered straight to everyone's door.

However you decide to spend next couple of months - keep your heart and your business local.

Yours, Stonestrow Publications.

Misty Double Glazing?

Hi My name is Dave Millidge, let me introduce my company where I repair windows and replace misted up Double glazed units.

The area that I cover is Coventry and Warwickshire. You may have seen me around in your street or even have family and friends who I have worked for in the past ten years, with over 6,000 satisfied customers during that period. I started Misty to Clear to give customers the best value repairs in the current climate.

The Misty to Clear website allows total transparency of the customer experience. You can log into the website and view work that I have carried out. You can also leave feedback on social media. Therefore I give a 5 year guarantee on all new double glazed units fitted by Misty to Clear.

This is a genuine guarantee which does not come as an extra to my price.

I started Misty to Clear mindful that the cost of repairs is probably key to most people's budget when using tradesmen to do work on their behalf in their homes.

I offer a lower cost service to both old and new customers as I operate directly for the customer with no additional hidden charges or insurance costs to you the customer.

So my Company name is Misty to Clear where I can offer steamed up window glass replacement and fix broken handles, hinges, seals, window locks and door locks.

I also change glass in Velux windows too.

Satisfaction guaranteed to be a high standard that carries a 5 year manufacturer backed guarantee.

Clearly a great service!

SAVE OUR HIGH STREET

SHOP LOCAL, NOT THE BIG BRANDED SUPERSTORES

In a world of extreme convenience, it's easy to overlook local shops over the allure of 24-hour behemoths that sell an endless array of goods. However, there are many benefits of choosing your high street butcher, greengrocer or hardware hero, including price savings in the areas that matter.

QUALITY OVER QUANTITY

Supermarkets are bedecked in uber branding that promotes their so-called sustainable credentials, thoughtfully sourced produce, and supposed friendly relations with farmers.

Of course, while some claims may be rooted in truths, as a consumer it is difficult to know where reality ends, and positive marketing begins. In contrast, your local butcher will usually be more transparent about where their products come from, and you can be sure everyone is getting their cut of the proceeds. Price-wise, it may seem more expensive, but the quality is likely to be superior.

EASY ACCESS

With a choice between a comfortable stroll to your local high street versus a drive to a clogged, car park the size of three football pitches, surely local wins? Not only do you save money on petrol, but you also save on stress.

Furthermore, if you like a post-shopping beverage, a flavoursome, hand-crafted latte from an independent café is going to be better than a milky, bland branded alternative that costs over a fiver.

VARIETY ISN'T THE SPICE OF LIFE

While seven thousand cereal options may seem alluring, the truth is, much of it is the same overpriced junk. If artificial additives, stabilisers and the like are your thing, then supermarkets are a wonderland for you, but even some of their so-called 'fresh' products aren't what they seem.

Bread is an excellent example of this: those just-baked loaves, despite their visual similarity, aren't a patch on one from your local bakery. A proper sourdough boule that uses two or three ingredients, over a superstore alternative that has been mass-produced (albeit 'freshly baked in store') ought to be a no-brainer. It will taste better, is far better for you – particularly if you suffer from gastrointestinal issues – and the bakery will likely have a loyalty programme, lowering the cost over return visits.

COMMUNITY

Above all else, shopping local is an experience in itself: you can foster relationships with your local business owners, advise them on what can make them better, and overall become a part of a community. When compared to the electronic bleeping of a self-service till, that is priceless.

LOCAL ECONOMY

We all complain about the downfall of the local high street, but how many of us put our money where our mouths are? In order to keep our local area thriving, we need to invest in it. So, get down there, and do your bit!

LITTER & OUR WILDLIFE

Throwing litter out of the car window is messy, but harmless...isn't it?

One tiny cigarette stub...harmless surely?

Actually...NO! To quote the chief executive of National Highways, "littering is not just unsightly, but it can have a deadly impact on wildlife, turning our verges into lethal roadside restaurants."

WHY?

Creatures are tempted by food containers casually hurled from cars or simply dropped; the smell of food leads creatures to investigate. They may mistakenly think rubbish is food, and try to eat bits, resulting in paws, heads or snouts trapped, or stomachs filled with plastic. Always, when disposing of a can, squeeze it inwards to reduce access, crush other containers, and BIN! The RSPCA receive over 10,000 reports of animals injured by littering over a 3-year period. Discarded 6 pack packaging, is often found encircling and choking animals and birds, cut this up before you bin. Discarded plastic will in time break down into microplastics, tiny particles which build up in our smaller creatures, and can wreak havoc on our wildlife's immune function, and lifespan.

Face masks are increasingly seen leading to choking, please cut the strings before binning, fishing hooks and lines... dispose of with care, all types of nets, even that badminton set, lead to entanglement, and unless found, certain death. Plastic bags...knot before disposal...animals get trapped and suffocate or try to eat them and choke. Broken glass leads to infected cuts on paws.

Then there's cigarette butts. 76% -84% of smokers throw butts on the ground rather than binning them, it is estimated that these are one of the world's most pervasive types of plastic pollution. The filters contain cellulose acetate fibres (a bio plastic), along with a very toxic mix of other chemicals, all of which will leach into the soil and groundwater. Discarded butts also wash into storm drains and are carried into rivers and seas. Birds have even been seen trying to feed butts to their young.

The injuries inflicted on wildlife or cats and dogs by thoughtless litter are horrendous.

PLANT LIFE

It's not just wildlife that suffers, litter on land contributes to soil pollution. Chemicals and plastics in our litter can leach harmful substances into the soil, reducing beneficial soil microorganisms, causing stunted plant growth and contaminating our water sources.

HUMANS

Yes, we also suffer, plastic never goes away, it breaks down into tiny microplastics, which will wash into our rivers and then into the sea. Fish ingest these; 75% of the fish sold for our consumption contains microplastics!

We must reduce this endless pollution of our world, and together we can!

Lobby manufacturers to use less plastic. If we all speak up... they will be forced to listen...WE keep them in business!

Join a litter picking group, form one, or just go out with gloves and a bag and do your own thing...this is our planet, and we must fight for it.

Together we are all responsible for causing this massive problem, we did not understand the dangers...BUT we do now and have to act!

HOST A GARDEN PARTY

THIS SUMMER

Gather your besties together and make the most of summer while it's here with a banging garden bash.

It's the season of gloriously long, warm days (hopefully!), which offers a rare window during which you can go all-out on a garden party. It's better than the beach or the park, because only VIPs are allowed – i.e. just you and your nearest and dearest; and it's better than having a party inside because, well, because the sun is awesome!

FURNITURE AND THE LIKE

If you're planning on using your garden a lot this summer, it's the time to splash out on fancy furniture. Even just a few items – table, chairs, loungers, umbrella – will uplift your outside space.

If your budget won't allow that, bring what you can from inside and ask your buddies to supply elements you don't have.

A decent Soundsystem is a must, obviously, and if you want lighting, you may want to see if there are any local rental companies that will do you a deal on both (you can even live out your superstar DJ fantasy and hire some decks if feeling particularly ambitious).

FOOD

In terms of food and drink, you need to appeal to your crowd, but a barbecue will always be the place to start. So, whether you've got a coal or gas barbie, make sure you're prepared, as running out of fuel mid-soirée is a massive vibe killer.

Some gas suppliers will even deliver, taking away your empty canister in exchange.

And as far as the food goes, make sure both adults and kids are catered for, with meat and vegetarian options. As far as the latter is concerned, there are an incredible array of meat alternatives on the market now, but aubergines, halloumi and stuffed portobello mushrooms are always popular.

For drinks, never forget the ice, and be sure to cater for the teetotalers or designated drivers, either with low or no alcohol alternatives or some interesting soft drink options.

FUN AND GAMES

With the beer and banter flowing, you might think no other entertainment is necessary, and you might be correct, but just in case a dartboard giant Jenga, quizzes and pool games are always popular.

WEATHER OR NOT

The great thing about British summer times is that they are wildly unpredictable. This adds a fun element to your garden party planning. Will it be scorching, windy, or perhaps bucketing down?

Either way, parasols or pagodas will keep out the sun or rain... and in case of a freak tornado hitting, there's always the local pub!
